

ALIVE AND WELL

Exploring the Arts and Crafts in Aurora, New York
Sponsored by the Arts and Crafts Society of Central New York

Saturday June 9, 2007

A Lesson from the Past:

Visit the Book Arts Center at Wells College. See how books continue to be handmade in the tradition of William Morris and his circle in England and the Roycrofters in America.

Participate in the printing and binding of your own 20 page booklet A History of the Book Arts at Wells College. An Arts and Crafts bookplate will also be set up on the hand press for you to print. Hand printed broadsides and books will be available for purchase. Check www.wells.edu and click Book Arts Center on their menu.

Food for Thought:

Lunch at Pumpkin Hill Bistro, Gift & Antique Shop and future winery headquartered in an 1820 farmhouse on Cayuga Lake.

A Bright Checker Board Future:

Tour MacKenzie-Childs mansarded Victorian farmhouse with over-the-top interiors and furnishings designed and painted by Victoria MacKenzie-Childs and edited and restored by Pleasant Rowlings. Walk the grounds, see their production demonstrations and shop in the company store.
